Touched base with Premier Cochrane's office this morning and no sign of movement. They will keep us posted but for now no news is good news.

Hi all,

I just had a call with Premier Cochrane's office. There are rumors of Blockade at the NWT border, which are viewed as credible enough that the territory is already working closely with RCMP. They are also in touch with Alberta on the issue. The sense is that the blockade will be at the border along the primary trade route or further into NWT.

The territory is in the middle of the seasonal mine resupply, and of fuel resupply for communities on winter roads. If unable to get fuel into winter road communities, Hercules aircrafts will be required. They are already looking into alternative routes via BC, but note that route adds 15 hours to the trip.

They believe the protestors organizing themselves are from both AB, as well as Hay River and Fort Smith, where there is a strong contingent of strong anti-vax supporters.

I have flagged for officials, as well as PMO, Northern Affairs, TC, PS etc. I will be sure to update the chain with any information that comes in.

Best,

Rebecca Parkinson
